Not at all, we would be happy to demonstrate our capabilities in this area to any State interested in providing this type of solution to their constituents.

Thanks again Jason.

Tori,

Do you mind if I also forward this to my national contacts who are working on this reform so they can send to states interested in enacting their own sites?

Sincerely,

Thank you for your email Jason and the information on the proposed Washington State free searchable budget transparency website.

I am confident we can make this website a reality for the State of Washington and we truly appreciate the chance to demonstrate this to you. I have copied Steve Finney the Washington State Account Executive and Ron O'Neil our services architect who specializes in this technology.

Steve, as a first step in assisting the State in this project, please reach out to Jason to establish a time to discuss with Ron the State's budget transparency website in more depth at which time next steps should be conveyed.

Jason, thanks again for reaching out to us. We truly appreciate the opportunity.

Happy Holidays
