Washington Policy Center launched the Pillar Society to give donors the opportunity to invest in free-market principles today while ensuring the impact grows for years to come.

The Pillar Society distinguishes donors who make a three-year, $15,000 minimum pledge to WPC.

Pillar Society members allow WPC to plan and allocate funds three years in advance to fight for what they and you believe in: smarter government, lower taxes and free enterprise. The Pillar Society is the life-blood of the organization and makes improving lives through free-market solutions possible.

Membership levels range from $15,000 ($5,000 per year for three years) up to $750,000 ($250,000 per year) and include a range of benefits, in addition to knowing you are investing your valuable dollars into a reputable, impactful organization.

Impact that was made possible by WPC Pillar Society members:

- Launched Free Markets Destroy – an innovative marketing campaign targeted to young people about the false promises made by socialism and the opportunities created from free markets
- Brought competition and choice to our state with our efforts to allow Charter Schools in Washington
- Launched WPC's Young Professionals Program to educate, engage and empower the next generation of free enterprise leaders
- Opened WPC's Initiative on Agriculture, using free market ideas and local solutions to reduce the burden of regulation on farmers and taxpayers
- Worked tirelessly to fight a state-income tax – educating voters who have voted against the tax 10 times
- Worked alongside partners to end the forced unionization of government workers with the Janus case, giving workers the freedom to choose whether to join a public union.

Moving forward, we will work to:

- Expand School Choice
- Stop a capital gains income tax
- Reform occupational licensing
- Safely reopen the state

// The papers are clear, concise and inclusive of not only this country's challenges, but also present a clear view of other countries' deficiencies.

WPC always does an outstanding job of researching and publishing critical issues affecting the citizens of Washington State. For this we are grateful and proud to support WPC efforts as Pillar Society members.

// Washington Policy Center is the gold standard for better Washington State policy. It is my "go-to" source to determine whether recommended policies or laws make sense for the long-term benefit of Washington State residents. Too often, we only hear one side, the loudest and best-funded side of a policy discussion. WPC breaks it down so we can hear all sides of significant policy discussions and make up our own minds.
